Report on NSS-conducted Extension Programme

Title of the Extn. Programme: Reading is Fun: Book Distribution and Public Reading with the Primary Students

Date of the Programme: May 3rd 2023

Venue of the Programme: Amtala Basic School, Amtala, Nowda

Introduction

The JRM NSS team had undertaken a unique initiative of book distribution and public reading with a view to sensitize the young kids to love books at Amtala Basic Primary School on May 3rd 2023.

Objectives

In this age of digital gadgets, the reading habits of the young generations is rapidly falling. Reading books is becoming a phenomenon of past. Young kids are attracted to digital gadgets and are highly apathetic to printed books. Consequently, the young generation is growing dull and unaware about the literary, cultural, and religious heritage of our country. They are prioritizing reels to stories. To initiate return to books movement, JRM NSS team conducted a free book distribution and joyful reading session with the students.

Activities Conducted

The programme included the following activities:

1. Books distributed
2. Speech delivered
3. Banners, flexes, and festoons displayed
4. Leaflet distributed
5. Joyful reading conducted

Participation

The college NSS unit incorporated 20 active members in its campaign guided by 3 faculty members. All the students school hilariously participated the programme. The honourable headmistress, the assistant teachers and NTSs offered all sorts of assistances required.

Programme Outcomes

The programme is highly successful as the objectives were fulfilled. Children love gifts avidly. All the children were agog with excitement at the book distribution and they turned the event into a book celebration with their spirited joviality. The kids were happily turning the colourful pages of the books and reading them out loudly. Their joy knew no bound. All the kids shouted in loud chorus when the reading was made. The entire occasion was full of joy, mirth, and happiness.
